

DECOTIIS, FITZPATRICK & COLE, LLP

HEALTHCARE

IN THE UNITED STATES, HEALTHCARE IS AN ENORMOUS INDUSTRY, REPRESENTING 17% OF THE GROSS NATIONAL PRODUCT. The legal challenges faced within the healthcare industry can be equally large, and equally complex. DeCotiis has represented and advised healthcare practitioners, hospitals and other facilities, HMOs, and private companies. Our services have included assistance with regulatory compliance, financing and corporate matters, labor and employment issues, real estate transactions, tax questions, and a wide variety of other subjects. Our multidisciplinary approach means that we have the expertise within the firm to effectively address almost any legal situation.

DeCotiis attorneys are particularly renowned for the expertise in professional malpractice and licensure issues. We have defended numerous healthcare professionals whose licenses and careers were at risk before state licensure boards, hospital review committees and, on occasion, juries.

As the healthcare industry continues to grow and evolve, the value of expert legal counsel becomes ever more significant. The legal issues connected with the provision of healthcare have a profound impact on anyone involved in the industry, and the attorneys of DeCotiis can help insure the health of your business.
